

FESTIVAL OF WHAT WORKS

NOVEMBER 15–22

Salmon Nation Festival of What Works: Community Mural – The Spiral of Change

Share back your experiences of What Works with our community mural. Making art together can help us make meaning of our lives during times of transition; as individuals or in the community. This community mural will grow every day as you share your finished templates with us, which we will then add to the larger, community-built mural.

You are invited to download and use the spiral template if:

- You want to stay grounded while listening to impactful sessions
- You want a place to express strong emotions or reactions to content at the Festival or your life at this moment
- You are bad at making art
- You love making art
- You need something to keep your kids busy and occupied
- You want a place to doodle your notes
- You want to share what works in your community.

1. Download one of the files above
2. Decorate it with the shapes, words, colors, squiggles, magazine cut-outs, glued pasta, pastels, paint, crayons, colored pencils, found objects...your imagination is the only limit
3. Scan or take a photo
4. Send to careteam@salmonnation.net
5. Watch the spiral grow each day.

What makes this community art?

We will collect submissions every day, assemble and share so we can watch the spiral of change grow during our Festival of What Works.

We will link them into the larger spiral, growing each days as new submissions come in:
